

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE
PSYCHOLOGY
VIRGINIA TECH™

OCTOBER 2023 NEWSLETTER

Grad School Applications, Study Abroad & FAFSA

Hello Psychology Majors,

Happy October! For any students interested in applying to graduate school - it's important to start thinking about the possibility of graduate school early. You will need to begin searching for programs, deciding on whom to ask for letters of recommendation, taking the GRE exam in advance, writing a personal statement, and updating your resume. We have a lot of relevant resources in this newsletter.

We also highlight some study abroad resources and want to remind you about the financial aid and scholarship opportunities that we know about.

We hope you have a wonderful month and continue to enjoy the football season and the beautiful fall weather. Good luck with any mid-terms!

*Taylor Swan, Christina Minford,
Courtney Glass, & Dr. Kurt Hoffman*

Searching for a Graduate Program

Have an idea of what kind of Psychology program you are looking for before you start your search, such as your preferred specialization.

- Peterson's Graduate School Search Tool here.
- Princeton Review Graduate School Search Tool here.
- American Psychological Association (APA) Graduate Program Search (Costs $) here.
- APA Graduate Study in Psychology Book (Costs $, APA recommended for Clinical/Counseling) here.
- Ideas on career paths and related PSYC graduate programs here.

Graduate School Application Process

- Applying to graduate school requires that you typically send in three professional letters of recommendation, your official VT transcript, a personal statement, your resume/CV, and sometimes a GRE score. However, requirements overall can differ from institution to institution.
- Noodle's How to Apply to Grad School article here.
- Month-by-Month Application Guide (be sure to be aware of specific application deadlines) here.
- Contact Jen Heinold at Career and Professional Development here for assistance with the process.

Recommendation Letter Tips

- Virginia Tech letter of recommendation tips here (for health profession schools specifically).
- Cornell University guide for requesting recommendation letters here.
- Guide for how to ask for a recommendation letter here.
- Letter of recommendation tips for grad school and job positions here.

GRE - Graduate Record Exam Information

- How to sign up for the GRE here.
- Information on the content tested on the GRE here and you can find the GRE structure here.
- Reminder: In the last few years, fewer and fewer graduate programs are requiring the GRE as part of the application. Check out specific application requirements for programs you apply to.

Other Helpful Information

- Writing a Winning Personal Statement for Grad School here.
- Financial aid ideas for graduate school are here and here.

Study Abroad Opportunities

- You can find a list of featured programs for psychology students here.
- You can participate in study abroad for a semester, winter session or summer session.
- You can go on any study abroad program (not just psychology specific) but make sure to check in with your academic advisor beforehand to plan your next semesters accordingly.
- You can search study abroad programs and scholarships here.
- You can contact the Global Education Office and be connected with an Advisor at vtabroad@vt.edu.

FAFSA & General Scholarship Application

- Complete Your FAFSA! The 2024-2025 FAFSA will be available in December 2023. Prospective and current Hokies - complete both the 24-25 FAFSA by priority deadline March 1st, 2024.
- Complete the FAFSA and the General Scholarship Application in VT Scholarship Central by January 22, 2024 for maximum financial aid and scholarship consideration for next year.
- Information on the new Federal Loan Forgiveness policy.